

ZAYAS EASY VICTOR IN CUBAN ELECTION

National League Party Make Practically Clean Sweep in Yesterday's Voting

PRESIDENCY NOW SETTLED

By the Associated Press.
Havana, March 16.—Dr. Alfredo Zayas, former vice president and candidate of the Conservative-Popular Coalition (National League) party, made virtually a clean sweep of the partial elections held yesterday in several hundred precincts of various provinces in Cuba.

Unofficial and incomplete figures given out by the Department of Communications at 1 o'clock this morning show that in the four provinces outside of Havana, where elections were held, the Liberal party obeyed the order of its executive committee to remain away from the polls, only forty-two voting.
A total of 14,419 votes was cast for Dr.
Zayas, this demonstrating the extent to which the Liberal party's withdrawal resolution was obeyed, at least in so far as Gomez, the Liberal presidential candidate, was concerned. It is probable a much greater number of Liberal votes were cast for provincial or municipal candidates.

Although the Liberals carried Havana province in the regular November elections and partial elections are set for Orense province on March 26, yesterday's election was considered final as regards the presidency.

Every possible precaution was taken to remove all possibility of violence or intimidation on the part of the police or military and to guarantee to every voter the right to freely cast his ballot, it was declared by persons intimately familiar with the steps taken in this direction since the arrival here of General Crowder as special representative of the American Government. Men of the highest standing, including judges from the bench, were sent by the central electoral board to every precinct several days before the date set for holding the elections.

General Crowder personally made a tour of inspection last week into several provinces and was reported to have personally investigated several minor clashes between the opposing parties, including the killing of the police chief and his assistant at the town of Colon.
He visited several polling places at points near Havana yesterday.

Reports received at the various governmental departments and by the central electoral board state there were no serious clashes anywhere during the day.

To Lecture on Sulphuric Acid Andrew M. Fairlie, chemical engineer, of Atlanta, Ga., will discuss recent developments in the manufacture of sulphuric acid at 8 o'clock tonight in the Franklin Institute. The address will be illustrated by lantern slides.
